International Project Semester (IPS)

for Bachelor Students in Engineering Sciences from our partner universities

International Project Semester (IPS)

Do you want to work and study in the heart of Europe?

Join the IPS and start a semester at htw saar, work on a company project in the industrial sector, attend project management & engineering courses!

The IPS is a program for international and local bachelor students in engineering sciences, which is organized by the School of Engineering in cooperation with companies located in Germany.

During the IPS, you will:

- have the opportunity to take part in an actual engineering project in the industrial sector,
- work in an international, interdisciplinary team,
- enhance your knowledge in project management,
- connect with students and academics from the htw saar,
- get to know Saarbrücken, Germany and its neighbouring cities and countries.

Entry requirements:

- You should have at least 120 ECTS in an engineering study program
- English proficiency required at least B2-level (certificate required). No German skills needed.

For further information on the language certificate, the application process or possibilities for financing your stay at htw saar (ERASMUS+ or IPS-Scholarship), please contact your university's International Office or visit our website (htwsaar.de/ips).
